SOME PERTINENCE.

To the Editor:--
A great many inquiries have been made as to the nature and purport of this latest litigation commenced by the Pacific Live Stock Co. as announced in last week's issues of the Burns papers. Mr. Treadwell has not made his second appearance in the press to again "put his company right before the public." Neither has he nor anyone else undertaken to explain why the State Water Board is not the proper institution to speedily and economically adjust the water rights to the Silvies River, or by what process the Board can take away or destroy any legitimate existing right.

The action is the carrying out of the threats of the long drawn out and expensive litigation; it is a continuance of the policy which the company has always employed to wear and financially break anyone it opposes. It was through this policy of threatening to drag the claimants and their witnesses down to Portland to defend their rights that the stipulations of 1901 were secured,--the decrees based upon which the company now pleads in the present case as a complete adjudication giving it all the waters of the stream. It was the policy of the company employed in disposing the settlers from the "Red S" field in 1889-91. In the 16 cases brought by Henry Miller against the settlers in the circuit court of Harney County the stage was set for the removal of the causes to the Federal Court at Portland by its agents and representatives--making affidavits to the effect, "That they are not bona fide citizens, settlers, or claimants, but merely seized these lands for the money they believed in it for being bought up again from them by plaintiff (Henry Miller) and taking advantage of the reclamation (?) and improvement already made by him and his predecessors."

"That until public opinion shall awaken to the danger and sustain prosecutions against such persons for the crimes of perjury, intimidation of witnesses, contempt of court, and other defiance of justice there is little use for plaintiff affirmatively to complain. But the day is not far off when such prosecutions will be forthcoming to be sustained and even called for by a law-abiding community now fast settling up this country, for which plaintiff, (Henry Miller) is patiently awaiting * * *"

That stuff would have read well before a Federal Judge removed from the scene. Mount Wright's Point (from which Hen Owen's swamp witness fished) and viewed the situation. The cabin homes that once dotted the field are missing; the grain fields have returned to swamp grass; the Little Red School House has disappeared; a barbed wire fence encloses a vast domain partially submerged with stagnant water, and the business of which furnishes employment for one Foreman, one Chinese cook and about a half dozen buckaroos. The law-abiding community for which Miller was so patiently awaiting 25 years ago are still trying to hang on and settle around the edges and ask for the use of only that which is going to waste.

What water is available for use is an undetermined quantity. Nickel admitted this when he insisted upon my securing individual contracts with water users and stating that his company would sign for a like amount, as set forth in the letter recently published by Mr. Treadwell. The law-abiding community has asked that the machinery provided for by our State Legislature be employed to speedily adjust the rights; all have filed their claims and paid the fees required. Then a California corporation that secured its alleged holdings by all sorts of questionable methods asks for an order to restrain the Water Board of Oregon from taking further action in the matter. It pleads its rights to remove the hearing to the Federal Courts; that the state law is unconstitutional; and that its rights have been adjudicated in the former proceedings. All these questions have already been raised and this present action is for the purpose of increasing the expense on the litigants and of causing delay.

What's the matter with Central Oregon? Why don't we have railroads and secure capital for development and improvements?

Respectfully,
C. B. MCCONNELL.

Christian Science services Sundays 11 a. m., Wednesdays at 8 p. m. Reading room open from 2 to 5 Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. First door east of stairway, Hisner Bldg. Cordial invitation extended to all.

The special school meeting held Thursday afternoon to elect a clerk was not largely attended and very little interest shown. J. E. Loggan was elected his opponent being Ches. Dalton. The former received 19 votes, the latter 12.

Miss Edith Beckley was in from Catlaw valley yesterday. The young lady reports the celebration held over there as quite an enjoyable affair and a success. A big rain storm interfered with a part of the program but they needed the rain so bad that no one seemed to mind a little moisture. The Times-Herald expected its correspondent over there to write a story of the celebration but as yet it has not been received at this office.

C. B. McConnell left yesterday morning by the way of Juntra for Portland where he goes to appear in the recent injunction suit filed by the P. L. S. Co. in the federal court. He goes out by Vale to consult with the Cole Brothers, his associates in the irrigation projects in this county, and as soon as he can get things arranged in court Mr. McConnell will return to the Drewsey section to look after the interests of clients in that vicinity in the adjudication of the water of the Malheur.

the lumber industry of the Northwest. The managers have opened general offices at 408 Commercial Club Building.

According to the opinion of an expert, the grain crop of Wasco County will be much greater than that of a year ago. The acreage is larger than that of a last year and, in addition, its present outlook is for a larger yield per acre. He estimates the wheat crop of the county at 825,000 bushels, barley 275,000 bushels, and oats, 600,000 bushels. The wheat crop last year was approximately 600,000 bushels.

As an indication of the promised good times in Umatilla county, it is stated that the farmers in that part of the state are spending about $50,000 for new farm machinery this year. Within the last two weeks at least a dozen modern harvesters have been installed and the next few days will see several more put into active service in harvesting the bumper grain crop.

"The best schools that money can buy," is the motto adopted by the schools authorities of Bandon in their efforts to make their schools the best of any in Southwestern Oregon. The total cost of new school buildings and extensions will be between 25 and $30,000.

Up to and including June 28 the Apple Growers' Association of Hood River had shipped 90 carloads of strawberries, or about six carloads less than were shipped last year. The shipment of cherries will aggregate about nine cars, or 75 per cent of last year's shipment.

Schools Improving.

"The minimum school term in Oregon is now six months, but seven years ago it was but three months. 60 days of school to 305 days vacation," said Frank K. Welles, assistant state school superintendent, in addressing the teachers at the Agricultural College summer school. "The minimum allowed the teachers on examination has been raised from 40 to 60 per cent, and the teaching force has improved accordingly. School buildings of brick, stone and lumber, have taken the place of the old wooden shacks. Text books and courses of study have been changed to include the useful things that make for the student's welfare. The number of high schools in the state has grown from five to 115 in a few years, and the number of graduates from high school has increased to 1500 during the last school year. In 1915 laws now enacted will go into effect whereby no inexperienced teacher without professional training can receive a certificate. There is also a general demand for an eight-months minimum term."

Man Uses Knife on Sid
Comegys at Diamond

The celebration pleasures at Diamond were marred by what might have been a very serious outting affray. A dance was in progress at the hotel the night of the 3rd when a young man by the name of George Wynn, who was drinking, became disagreeable in the ladies parlor and Sid Comegys went to remove him. The man used a knife slashing Mr. Comegys in several places before he was overpowered. Dr. Griffith was called over but found none of the cuts were deep and Sid is getting along well. The man made his escape but D. M. McDade, who had been deputized and accompanied Dr. Griffith out, found him and he was brought to Burns and lodged in jail.

Regardless of the fact that President Farrell of the O. W. R. & N. denies the report of the rumor that the railroad is to be extended on west from Riverside in the immediate future, there are those who believe such is the intention nevertheless. It seems to be the policy of the railroad officials to deny things even though the work should begin the following week. It was from reliable men that The Times-Herald received its information last week and they have no motive in deliberately lying about it and have grounds for the assertion.

LATEST DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE NOTES

(From Our Portland Correspondent)

It has been definitely decided that the commercial, industrial and development organizations of Oregon will hold a big Industrial and Products show in Portland from Oct. 26 to Nov. 14, and the Army, together with one or more temporary structures, has been selected as the site. Mr. Louis W. Buckley, formerly of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, has been selected to manage the big show. About 80,000 square feet of space will be utilized and this will be nearly equally divided between soil products and products of the workshop. About 12,000 square feet will be used to show municipal and educational work. It is expected that the best showing of apples and other fruit ever made in Oregon will be found at this show. The transportation companies have taken an active interest in it and practical cooperation will be rendered by the Portland Commercial Club, Portland Chamber of Commerce, The Portland Ad Club, the Retailers' Association, the Rotary Club and by the press of Portland and the state at large.

The premium list for this land show, which will be issued in about ten days, will provide for about $20,000 in cash and special prizes. In addition to the premiums, specially engraved diplomas will be given. It is expected that the states of Utah, Idaho and Washington will send land product exhibits and otherwise participate in this great exposition. County and district exhibits are particularly desired by the management, also a complete
